

NEERC

Summary of May 30 Meeting

The May 30 meeting of the NEERC featured an interesting and informative presentation by Dave Opton, Founder and CEO of ExecuNet. His statistical analysis and insight into the current executive community was very helpful to us all. One prominent piece of information was that the executive population was job changing more frequently than ever and in addition that there is a talent shortage heading into a crisis stage. It would appear that executive search, executive coaching and executive outplacement might be the beneficiaries.
